

Kim Stallknecht

Email: kim_stallknecht@telus.net

Mobile: 250-650-8812

www.stallknecht.com

#14-2728 First Street, Courtenay, BC V9N 4A4

FILM INDUSTRY QUALIFICATIONS:

- NIC Production Assistant Training Program with Mark Voyce, Location Manager (completed October 2017)
- NIC Lighting Technician Training Program with John Helme, Gaffer/Chief Lighting Technician (completed December 2017)

CERTIFICATIONS:

- WHMIS
- BCCSA Traffic Control Person
- Propane Safety & Awareness
- Occupational First Aid Level 1
- Fall Protection & Boom-Supported Elevating Work Platforms (Certification by Leavitt Machinery Safety Training)
- Actsafe, Food Safe & Motion Picture Orientation
- Workplace Violence & Harassment Online Training Course

PERSONAL QUALITIES:

Combining congeniality, common sense, organization, reliability, humour and commitment to achieve the best possible outcomes under challenging conditions.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY:

Self-employed professional photojournalist documenting political and sporting events, and world political leaders for news agencies including The New York Times, Vancouver Sun, IOC, FIFA, NBA, CFL, NHL, and local, provincial, and national companies, associations and organizations.

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS:

- Photographer for AFP news agency covering the WTO 'Battle in Seattle' (Cover of Time Magazine), Queen Elizabeth's Royal Jubilee; LA Summer Olympics, Calgary and Vancouver Winter Olympics
- Team photographer for Vancouver Grizzlies and BC Lions
- Photographer for book publications supporting cancer research including two cookbooks titled Celebrity Lights and Project Hope featuring children who have survived cancer
- Canadian Press National Newspaper Photography Awards for Feature and Sports Categories, Calgary AB
- Two-term president of Canadian Association of Photographers and Image Creators (CAPIC), Vancouver BC
- Two-term photography instructor and later, student mentor, at Langara College, Vancouver, BC
- Contributor to Photosensitive, a group of 50 Canadian photographers, volunteering their collective lens to those who are marginalized by popular culture, most recently shining light on our society's aging population for gallery exhibitions and magazine publications.

CHARACTER REFERENCES:

Cheryl Shoji – Former Photo Assignments Editor, Pacific Newspaper Group (Vancouver Sun), Victoria BC
cashoji@shaw.ca (250-598-8837)

Jennifer Steel – Manager of Corporate Communications, Comox Valley Regional District, Courtenay BC
jsteel@comoxvalleyrd.ca (250-334-6063)

Debbie Butt - Director of Communications & Marketing, Canuck Place Children's Hospice, Vancouver, BC
debbie.butt@canuckplace.org (604-646-1340)